REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CHARITY BALL.

Farwell Reception to General and Mrs. Penrose on Tuesday Evening. The German at Taggart's Hall. The Marriage of Miss Thomas and Mr. Park.

The past week has been a quiet one, or would have been if Fanny Davenport's engagement had not absorbed the attention of most society people. The art reception on Tuesday evening was the largest event of the week. The reception at the Maitland was also largely attended. The merriest affair of the week was the German at Taggart's hall, given by George Y. Wallace, Jr.

The clubs, social and literary, are "renewing their strength, like the eagles," after the holiday rest.

The social outlook for this week is not a bright one, excepting the activity of the many clubs.

A quiet wedding of much interest to society circles will take place on Wednesday evening.

The marriage of Miss Eleanor Louisa Thomas and Mr. Samuel L. Park will take place at St. Paul's Wednesday, the 17th inst., at 7:30 p. m. Miss Margaret Park, sister of the groom, will be the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Millie Glass, of Los Angeles, Miss Clara Bailey, Miss Ethelyn Webber, Miss Katharine Lowe, Miss Emma McCormick, and Miss Minnie Kiesel, of Ogden. The bride will be accompanied by Mr. Frank Ashley, of Denver, who will act as best man, and the ushers will be Messrs. Charles Post, George Nye, Eugene Gaylord, Will Walker, Will Ford and Fred Kiesel, of Ogden. Five hundred invitations have been issued and the wedding promises to be one of unusual elegance. After the wedding an informal reception will be given to the relatives of the bride and groom and to the bridal party. Much interest is felt in the event, as the prospective bride, the daughter of ex-Governor Thomas, is one of Salt Lake City's loveliest belles and has friends without number who have known her from her infancy, and the groom is a young man of sterling qualities who is equally popular in business and social circles.

A farewell reception was tendered General and Mrs. Penrose at Recreation hall, Fort Douglas, on Tuesday evening. Mesdames Palmer, McFarland, Wright, Wittall and Taylor were instrumental in arranging it and its success is the only comment necessary upon their well-known accomplishments as entertainers. The reception was of an informal nature and the invitations were confined to the regiment. The younger officers asked the privilege of decorating the hall for the occasion, and their arrangements were artistic and elegant. The evening was very artistic. The bachelor quarters were ransacked of rugs and bric-a-brac to further adorn the hall, and the scene of so many pleasant assemblies was surpassed at the fort.

Among the guests were noticed Mesdames Blunt, Palmer, McFarland, Tyrrell, Wittall, Morrison, Richardson, Guyer, George, Heiman, Misses Sorley, Sue Bacon, Ruth Palmer, Lucy Wittall, Laura Thompson, Colonel Blunt, Captain McFarland, Captain Wittall, Captain Morrison, Captain Woodbury, Lieutenants Cowles, Thurston, Steadman, Gregg, Erwin, Sorley, and Misses Spencer, Hirschman, and Mr. W. Landrum McFarland.

The German given at Taggart's hall Tuesday evening by Mr. George Y. Wallace, Jr., was the gayest, and one of the most successful events of the week. Mr. George F. Downey led the German, and the figures were executed with much grace, as well as a great deal of zest. The favors were pretty, many of them being souvenirs of the European travels of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. Downey also gave some dainty baskets of candy to the young ladies, and half dozen (candy) cigars daintily tied with pink ribbon to the gentlemen. The dancing commenced at 8 o'clock and lasted till 11 p. m., refreshments being served during the evening.

The young ladies were very prettily gowned; Miss Eloise Sherman in baby blue moire with sleeves and trimmings of blue crepe; Miss Anna Mae McMillan, canary satin with bertha and flounces of exquisite white lace, the flounces caught here and there with bows of canary ribbon; Miss Small, old blue silk with trimmings of chiffon; Miss Bessie Wright, white mulle trimmed with handsome fringe, pink ribbons; Miss Bertha Barker, cream colored with white crepe, cream pink velvet with cream lace; Miss Louise Odell, red crepe with red ribbon; Miss Marguerite Richards, white tulle over pink silk; Miss Bessie Glendinning, old red silk with white lace; Miss Margaret Thompson, pink silk with white chiffon; Miss Laura Sherman, red crepe with red ribbons; Miss Adie Zane, pink silk trimmed with folds of gray silk with pink piping; Miss Julia Dean, rose pink crepe; Miss Edna Remington, pink silk with white lace; Miss Katie Williams, cream colored crepe with trimmings of tulle, satin and lace.

Mrs. Wallace and Miss Wallace received and Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Dean, Mr. Williams, Mrs. A. K. Smith, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Allen, enjoyed the German. Mr. George Y. Wallace assisted in some of the figures and his presence added much to the enjoyment of the guests. The German was given by Messrs. Abel Sawyer, Frank Kraft, Salisbury, Gilmer, Roy Hampton, Kent Smith, Dana Smith, Tod Goodwin, Albert Taylor, Alma Katz, Bert Lawrence, Charlie Lawrence, Malcolm Glendinning, Albert Allen, Walker, Milton Miles and Frances Colton.

Miss Gertrude Cohn gave a watch night party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Kahn. Dancing was the feature of the evening and when the twelve couples were seated around the table the death of the old year and the advent of the new the guests were seated around a most attractive banquet board.

The guests were Misses Annie and Darric Woolf, Edna Jacobs, Sarah Cohn, Cecelia Bisher, Edna Cohn, Rae Liechtenstein and Messrs. Henry Kahn, H. Hartman, Jake Gerswald, Louis Bamberger, Jerome Hirschman, Louis Neils and Frank Ranshaw and B. K. Bloch.

Misses Florence and Frances Howat gave a party on Monday evening last which was much enjoyed by all present. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers, red and white predominating. Stixx here and there added to the effectiveness of the floral decorations. A handsome array of mistletoe was suspended at a convenient place for the ladies thought, inconvenient, place between the parlors, and the ceremony which always attends the introduction of mistletoe was religiously observed. Many juvenile games were indulged in.

and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were Misses Bertha Allen, Flora Griffin, Irene Schettler, Anna Iverson, Ella Putnam, Margaret Daily, Florence, Mattie and Clara Hall, Sally and Mamie Leonard, Edith Glass, Helen Reddall, Edith Sney, Carol Young, Lucile Ranken, Emily Read, and Masters Hugo Druell, Robert Young, Charles Reddall, Harold Eldredge, Herman Schettler, Roy Davis, Willie McCray, Harold Siegel, Earl Siegel, Wayne Hemphill and Paul Irvine.

With the delightful surroundings of Dr. Uter's well-filled library, the cheerful glow of firelight, and the pleasing voice of the reader, the Tension club could not but have spent a most pleasant evening on Friday. The club has been studying Tension for the past year and has become very familiar with the works of the poet laureate. It has been decided to begin the study of Lowell this year, and the new departure was made last week. Dr. Uter read a brief biographical sketch of Lowell, also a review of his works by leading English critic. The discussion was "The Unhappy Lot of Mr. Knott," almost Lowell's only humorous effort.

The Monday Evening club held a meeting of more than usual interest last week. Michael Angelo's life and works was the theme under discussion, and it was exceedingly well handled. In this various departments by Miss Clara Blunt, Miss L. A. Anderson, Mr. O. Davis, Mr. Stebbins, and Mr. Avery. Mr. Avery's paper on "Michael Angelo as Architect of St. Peter's Cathedral" was of especial interest.

The committee on music, Miss Flanders, Mrs. Davis and Mr. Kerr have arranged for an "evening with Handel" on Tuesday, on Monday, the 15th inst. Mr. Nye will give an address on "American Humors."

Miss Cecelia Sharp added to her laurels as a delightful hostess on Friday evening when she entertained the Whist club and a score of friends beside. By unanimous consent cards were abandoned and the evening was almost wholly devoted to music. The hostess played several selections in her usual charming manner. Miss Preston sang very pleasingly, Mr. Wilby Douglas also entertained the audience with several piano solos. Mr. C. D. Schettler gave several beautiful airs on the guitar. Mr. George D. Pyper and Mr. George D. Pyper also gave several beautiful solos. Miss Babcock recited in her well known and sympathetic manner.

A substantial feast at the close of the programme proved an attractive feature of the evening's entertainment. The members of the club are Misses Cecelia Sharp, Ivy Clawson, Lulu Clawson, Florence, Nellie, Van Cott, May Preston, Aggie Sharp, and Messrs. C. D. Schettler, E. L. Sheets, S. M. Barratt, W. B. Douglass, Oliver Green, Oscar Myrie, Gerson and Brigham Smith. The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Douglass, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Pyper, Mr. and Mrs. E. Pyper, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young, Mrs. Barrelet, Mrs. Minnie Snow, Mrs. Camilla Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Young, Miss Babcock, Dr. Babcock and Mr. Ives Cobb.

Following is a report from one of the committees that so ably managed the recent charity ball:

The ladies of the Charity Ball association desire, in returning thanks to the various people in the city, who by their co-operation and sympathy did so much to make the occasion a success, to inform them of the favorable result of the ball. The total receipts of the evening, consisting of five ladies' tickets, by the executive committee of the ball, will have placed in their hands some $100.00. That the sum is so large, considering the small price of the tickets and "the hard times," is owing to the excellent management of the women in charge, and also to the very liberal donations of many people in the city. The fine supper was entirely contributed.

Mr. Burton made a handsome donation of $50 and Mrs. Netherland of $25. W. S. McCormick for electric light and gas, T. R. Ellerbe for coal; Wolstenholme & Morris, coal; Callaway, Hook & Co., for coal; and the Ladies' Aid Society and Dairy company, butter and cream; the Musicians' union, for music; Salt Lake Tribune, Salt Lake Herald; completed hotel, for use of silver, and Mr. Reading for floral decorations. Quite a large amount of material left from the supper was distributed to the Rescue mission and other charitable institutions.

The ladies of the disbursing committee decided that $350 of the amount raised should be given to the Rescue mission and the remainder to the General Relief association. The eighteen club spent a most enjoyable evening at the home of Ex-Governor Thomas on Friday evening. The members had been requested to "be prepared to do something," and they were duly prepared. Miss Millie Glass and Miss Emilie Katz each gave some instrumental music. Miss Ethelyn Webber, Messrs. Post and George Lawrence sang. Mr. Nye read a humorous story, Miss Clara Bailey gave a quotation, Miss Afton Young manipulated a bracelet in a way that no one could imitate. Mr. Sam Park showed some card tricks that were baffling to the lookers-on. During the refreshment hour the guests were all seated at one long table which arranged itself much to the pleasant informality of the evening. While the guests were seated the pleasant introduction of the evening was initiated into the mysteries of "The Jangling," by Miss Kiesel of Ogden and Mr. Will Lawrence were guests of the club.

The soiree d'ansante given at the Maitland on Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Simond, that day being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage was one of the charming affairs for which the Maitland is noted. Mr. and Mrs. Page, the proprietors, are nothing if not hospitable, and no trouble was spared in the way of decorations and banquet to make it very enjoyable. Mr. and Mrs. Simond were the recipients of many handsome presents, and of innumerable congratulations. Besides the guests of the hotel there were present Dr. and Mrs. J. Beattie, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Donnellan, Mr. and Mrs. John L. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. K. Rhodes, Miss Bessie Wright, Mr. J. C. Bechern, Mr. A. H. S. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Axford, Hon. T. J. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Ewing, Mr. W. B. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Jones, Julius Gauer, Mr. C. H. Barrett, Mr. J. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell, Miss Minnie Taylor, Mr. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hill.

General and Mrs. Penrose left for their northern post, Fort Assiniboine, last evening. During their five years' residence at Fort Douglas they have made friends with a number, both at the post and in this city, and their departure is universally regretted. This regret is mingled with much disappointment among the army and at Fort Douglas, as it was hoped that the general would be appointed to succeed Colonel Blunt, who will retire from the command of the sixteenth infantry this summer. The twenty-first is to be congratulated, however, and we bespeak the same esteem for General and Mrs. Penrose as we do for the officers and their families from Fort Douglas.

On Friday evening Miss Sue Bacon entertained the Card club, a recently organized club composed of Misses Bacon, Hoge, Airt, Colton, Ora Harkness, Bessie Rhodes and Messrs. Henry McCormick, B. K. Smith, Bob Smith, Westervelt, Smiley and Lieut. Gregg.

Miss Esther Freed entertained a few friends very pleasantly on Wednesday evening. Cards, music and dancing were the order of the evening. The guests were Misses Lottie Levey, Blanche Aldrich, Ida Cohn, Meyer and McKendle and Messrs. Will Ellerbe, Wal Silverwood, Jerome Hirschman, Fred Meyer, Lester Freed, Charlie Donelson and Henry Brink.

Miss Camille returned to Evanston today after a two weeks visit with relatives in this city.

Among the many theatre parties seen on Monday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Whitney, Mrs. Eva Davis, Miss Allie Davis and Mr. John D. Spencer, who occupied Manager Burton's box.

In one of the stalls on the same evening was seen Misses Roundy, Florence Roundy, Georgia McKimmins, Mr. Roundy, Mr. Charles Caine and Mr. Bob Stevenson.

Miss Edith Weller, Miss Maggie Taylor, Mr. Gibbs and Mr. Victor Wells were among the members of another party who occupied a stall on Monday evening.

Mrs. Geo. T. Odell, Mrs. Miller, Miss Alice Miller, Miss Odell, Mrs. Stanley Price, also enjoyed "Fedora" from one of the stalls.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Sallsbury, Mrs. Gray, Miss Cash, Miss Stella Sallsbury, and Mr. P. H. Lannan were also seen in one of the stalls on the first evening of Fanny Davenport's engagement.

Still another party on the same evening occupied one of the stalls. Mrs. Kimball, Miss Kimball, Mrs. Kiskick and Dr. and Mrs. Pinkerton.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. Pyper, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young, Mrs. Barrelet, Mrs. Minnie Snow, Mrs. Camilla Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Young, Miss Babcock, Dr. Babcock and Mr. Ives Cobb.

Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Gaylord, Miss Ella Thomas, Miss Margaret Park, Miss Millie Glass, Mr. Sam Park and Mr. P. H. Lannan formed a party who enjoyed "Cleopatra" on Wednesday evening.

Miss Esther Freed returns to Ogden today, where she will resume her studies in the Academy of the Sacred Heart, having spent her winter vacation with her parents in this city.

Among the "at homes" none are pleasanter than those given by Mrs. McGivney on Friday evening. The guests were surrounded by a charming young lady who make her evenings doubly attractive.

Miss Kuhn, of Cheyenne, who was the guest of Miss Wiggins during the holidays, returned on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice gave a small dinner party on New Year's day.

At the Cleofan on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Will Clawson gave a highly interesting address on "Modern French Art," which was followed by showing some fine cuts and drawings of some of the celebrated paintings to be seen at the Louvre.

Miss Bessie Glendinning will return to Tacoma, Wash., this week, where her name is enrolled as one of the students in Annie Wright's seminary.

Messrs. Pollock, Holden and Wicks gave a small dinner party at their bachelor home, 78 West Fifth South street, on Friday evening.

Mrs. Burckett, of Halley, Idaho, is the guest of Mrs. Barber.

The Theatians will give social entertainments at their hall on Third South street twice a month.

Judge and Mrs. Marshall gave an elegant dinner party on Wednesday evening, in honor of Dr. Fowler, who has recently returned from California. Besides the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wither, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCormick and Miss Keogh.

The club of which previous mention has been made in these columns as one whose study was devoted to history, met at the home of the Misses. Mr. Eric, who served as sponser, Miss Lyde Wells read an able paper on the Crusades. The paper showed much research as well as ability on the part of the writer.

The Circle of Strangers was entertained by Mrs. Archer on Tuesday evening. An innovation was introduced in the programme, and the husbands of the members, the husbands responding with great alacrity. A delightful evening was spent. The circle will be entertained on Tuesday, evening the 8th inst., by Mrs. Otto Stallman at her home, corner Fourth East and Second South streets.

The "Neighborhood Club" was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Parsons at her home, 313 Park Avenue, on Thursday evening. The winners at high five were Mrs. Rivers who was rewarded with a souvenir, and Mrs. China ask tray. Mrs. Stiel was consoled for "poor luck" by being presented with a tennis racket and Mr. U. K. Parsons will think of that evening whenever he uses the new whistle warranted to be heard by any street car conductor in the land.

Among the club members present were Mr. K. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Brice, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McGill, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. James Eager, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lynch.

The Maitland club which gives the first of a series of dancing parties at the Parker-Christensen hall tomorrow evening is composed of the following members: S. S. Dickinson, William Pichel, L. P. Robinson, F. B. Cook, Dr. B. W. Whitte, O. G. Gerswald, W. W. H. Terhune, C. A. Graeber, F. C. Carthy, C. O. Whitmore, George T. Brice, T. H. Kennedy, S. E. Robinson, L. C. Robinson, George Knox, J. D. Tobin, J. H. Sullender, H. J. Rivers, Fred J. Hill.

Messrs. Knox, Tobin, Sullender, Rivers and Hill comprise the committee on Tivoli, and how they will have as their guests a few friends of the members tomorrow evening.

Mr. Charles H. Compion gave a dinner party in commemoration of his birthday, Jan. 2. The guests were Mr.

F. G. Waite, Mr. Grant Smith, W. B. Sparkman, Dr. H. D. Niles and Mr. D. H. Seymour.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Donnellan gave a pleasant party at the Grand on Friday evening. The guests at high five were rewarded as follows: Mrs. Linck, first prize, handsomely bound copy of "The Prince of India," Mr. Scheid, first prize, a book, "Criticism and Fiction," by Howells, Mrs. Meyers, consolation, "As We Go." The rooms were handsomely decorated and the evening made doubly attractive by the vocal selections of Mrs. Davis and Mr. Scheid. Dainty refreshments completed the pleasure of the evening.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. Niles, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hale, Mr. and Mrs. John Linck, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bacon, J. B. Ingram, Ed. Richards, T. A. Davis, J. H. Hinman, John Walton, Mrs. Omar Davis, Mrs. Stuart Meyers, Mr. Ricketts, Captain Donnell, Mr. Dimick, Mr. Scheid.

Miss Lottie Stevens very charmingly entertained the Oquirrh Club on Friday evening. After the programme, a mock trial was given which was highly amusing. Mr. Armstrong as the judge, Mr. Ed. Hazegrove and Mr. Brown as the attorneys, and Mr. Hazegrove as the defendant, were highly successful in their respective roles. Miss Daisy Shields will entertain the club next Friday evening at No. 235 G street.

Under the direction of Mr. H. G. Whitney, the dramatic function of the series of entertainments to be given in the Eighteenth ward hall for the benefit of the poor of that ward, is assuming definite form, and will be an affair of much interest.

Mrs. J. Halloway and daughter Ruth and Miss Nettie Halloway, of Cincinnati, O., are here from San Francisco en route for the east. They are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Kahn of 678 E. South Temple.

Mrs. Dr. Conroy and her sister-in-law, Miss Conroy, of Ogden, are visiting Mrs. Frank Dewey Richards.

Mrs. William Jennings will return from Boston on Wednesday and will be at home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jennings during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tilton Donnellan entertained the Thursday Evening club in their usual hospital manner last night at the Colgate hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt were the guests of the club.

Mrs. John Tilton Donnellan's "at homes" are always charming and the last was particularly so on account of the presence of her lovely guest, Miss Wright, of Denver.

Mrs. A. B. Sawyer gave a party on Friday afternoon which was greatly enjoyed by all the young people present.

The Campfire club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Barker of Darlington Place on Friday evening.

Miss Grace Thompson gave a small party on Friday evening which was much enjoyed by all present.

Miss McFall, of Farmington, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Hosick.

Ogden Magazine Club.

The Magazine club met at the beautiful home of Mrs. A. B. Patton on Tuesday last. The guests were met at the door by Master Abner. After warm greetings by the hostess to all, the call to order by the president, Mrs. Elliott opened the meeting. Mrs. Perkins was appointed timekeeper, after which the minutes were read and approved.

That proposed to be the most interesting programme the club has yet had was then given.

The first was the duet by Mesdames Gilbert and Gideon, and as the first of the "Golden Age" of the "Le Calife de Bagdad" were sounded at length, a pleasant treat was to be given them.

The report on Scribner's magazine was given by Mrs. Williams, and she did as full justice to the subjects as could be in the short time allowed. Among the contents which this magazine offers this month were two of especial interest—the famous reply of the great Webster to Hayne, and a sketch of the life of Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Miss Hemick gave a recitation from "Ben Hur," which was very much enjoyed. We hope the club may again be so fortunate in having her.

The report of Mrs. Theodore Robinson on the last Cosmopolitan was much appreciated, and regret expressed that the time could not be extended so as to allow the complete report to be given.

The song, "Thou Star of My Heart," was enjoyed, as all of Mrs. Adams' favors in that line are.

The programme occurred, which has been strictly forbidden, and severe penalties imposed; but Mrs. Patton had the courage to face them, and persisted in serving refreshments, and the club was heart and delicious that none had the heart to inflict the punishment, thus the members who may be tempted to infringe the rule are warned that they will receive the stated punishment surely and swiftly.

After refreshments had received due attention, the subject of "The Social Conversation," the programme was resumed. Mrs. Corlew reporting on the Editor's Drawer in Harper's, which was very interesting, and that all were enjoying with her the dainty dessert offered in this part of the magazine.

The critic reported that she had but few corrections to make.

Judge Patton was discovered in the hall, and in answer to the persistent calls for speech he surrendered. His commendation of the ladies' efforts to lift themselves by cultivation of the mind to the higher plane occupied by the great intellects of the world, was followed by words of encouragement and the private secretary, speaker that they had not to climb. The bravery of the judge in coming before the club to speak was highly commended. The "no-stocks," was freely commented on.

The bright face of little Abner was seen in the room after noon, and he discharged his various duties with all the grace incident to beautiful childhood.

As the sunset glow was rapidly disappearing from the mountains, the ladies departed, twenty of them in an immense boat-shaped, filled with straw, which they had engaged for the round-trip. The boat was so comfortable that this merry band of ladies discussed the advisability of chartering the sled for the winter season.

Following C. H. Laidley were Mrs. Patton, Mesdames Elliott, Fletcher, Smith, Evans, Gideon, Gilbert, Armstrong, Heywood, Berry, Remick, Robinson, Robinson, Adams, Williams, Perkins, Davidson, Howland, Boreman, Kiesel, Bigelow, Warner, Bigelow, Lindy and Sarbaugh; and the Misses Le Grange, Remick, Bigelow, Smith, Spilner, Snow, Kiesel, Breen, and Whiting.

The club will meet on the 16th of January, 1894, at the house of Mrs.

Spivey, on Adams avenue, near Twenty-third street.

Ladies' Literary Club.

The Ladies Literary club met Friday after an intermission of two weeks. The subject for the day was "The Wonders of Egypt." We were taken back to the myetic days of Isis and Osiris, and told of the facts, legends and traditions of the great river Nile. Then came the reigns of the Pharaohs. Many of the customs that have been attributed to Rome are indicated in early Egyptian history. The Roman idea that the dead must first cross the river Styx was a transplanting of the real custom in Egypt. After death the mummy, before it is laid in its final resting place, must first be floated on the broad bosom of the river Nile, and thus in old Egypt as in old England the dead, before the dumb, went upward with the flood, and the robber king, and of the wonderful monuments and temples built by them. Of special interest was the description of the pyramids, whose enormous size was realized when we were told that the base of one covered eleven acres, one acre more than a Salt Lake city block. The obelisk, which is purely Egyptian, was carefully analyzed. Mention was made of the different peoples who had from time to time influenced the customs and language of the Egyptians. Literature and art were spoken of, and copies shown of some of the mummy paintings in Theodor Graf's wonderful collection. The paper was concluded with a sketch of modern Egypt, and instances were related of the baneful influence of the present English control there. Friday of next week will be devoted to current literature.

Mrs. M. A. Johnson, 252 South Ninth East street, is prepared to fill all orders for refreshments. Can serve 200.
